

Linda Mercer-Botelho (Picture with Orange Dress)

Linda Mercer-Botelho is the Founder and Executive Director of On Stage Academy of Performing Arts and On Stage Theatrical Productions. For more than 40 years, Linda has dedicated her career to providing children with professional performing arts training in a safe, nurturing, and educational environment.

Linda studied Dance Education through the Boston Conservatory Teacher Certification Program and has continued her professional development through extensive training in Ballet, Jazz, Musical Theater, and Dance Education. She has studied with nationally recognized educators including Charles Kelley and Frank Hatchett and has participated in professional intensives through the American Ballet Academy at Vassar College.

Under Linda's direction, thousands of students have received training in dance, theater, and voice while building confidence, discipline, creativity, and leadership skills that extend far beyond the stage. Her passion for arts education continues to inspire generations of young performers throughout the South Coast community.

Linda is a member of the JKSOM – Julie Kay Studio Owners Organization, as well as both the Dance Teachers Club of Boston and Dance Masters of America Chapter 5. Through these organizations, she continues to stay active in professional development, dance education, and industry training opportunities.

Roger Botelho Jr. (Male pictures in suit jacket)

Roger Botelho Jr. serves as the Music Director and Voice Instructor for On Stage Academy of Performing Arts and On Stage Theatrical Productions. Roger works closely with students in voice, piano, musical theater, and performance preparation, helping young performers develop strong vocal technique, musicianship, and stage confidence.

Roger holds a Master's Degree in Special Education and brings both educational expertise and musical leadership to the organization. His supportive teaching style allows students of all experience levels to feel comfortable while growing artistically and personally.

In addition to directing music for productions and showcases, Roger has helped guide countless students through auditions, performances, and vocal development programs over the years.

Stacy Wong (Black and White)

Stacy Wong has been part of the On Stage family for many years as both a performer and instructor. She specializes in Jazz, Tap, Musical Theater Dance, and performance choreography.

Stacy attended Providence College where she was a member of the Providence College Dance Team. Her strong technical background, performance experience, and upbeat teaching style make her a favorite among students of all ages.

She is passionate about helping children develop confidence, teamwork, and strong dance technique while creating a positive and encouraging classroom atmosphere. Stacy has choreographed numerous productions, showcases, and competition performances for On Stage students.

Elle Gendreau (Pictured sitting down elbow on chair)

Elle Gendreau is an accomplished performer, choreographer, and On Stage alumna who has grown up through the On Stage program. She has performed in numerous musical theater productions and special events throughout New England and has participated in performance opportunities at Walt Disney World.

Elle specializes in Musical Theater, Jazz, and Tap choreography and enjoys helping students connect storytelling with movement and performance. Her energy, creativity, and passion for teaching inspire students to work hard while enjoying the artistic process.

As both an instructor and mentor, Elle is dedicated to encouraging young performers to build confidence and pursue their goals both on and off the stage

Hillary Coelho

Hillary Pavao serves as the Administrative Assistant for On Stage Academy of Performing Arts and On Stage Theatrical Productions. She works closely with students, parents, and staff to help keep daily operations organized and running smoothly.

Hillary assists with front desk operations, parent communications, registration support, scheduling, costumes, and event coordination throughout the year. Her welcoming personality, attention to detail, and dedication to the students and families of On Stage make her an important part of the organization.

Hillary is also a former On Stage student and graduate who began dancing at On Stage at the age of 5. Growing up through the program gave her a lifelong appreciation for the performing arts and the positive impact arts education can have on children and families.

In addition to her work at On Stage, Hillary currently works within the Fall River Public Schools system as a Speech Pathologist. Her background in education and communication, combined with her passion for youth development, helps create a welcoming and supportive experience for all students and families involved with On Stage Academy of Performing Arts

Lisa Mailloux (Pictured Black Shirt)

Lisa Mailloux is an experienced dance educator and former studio owner with a lifelong dedication to dance education and the performing arts. Her extensive background in teaching, choreography, and studio leadership has made her a respected member of the dance community throughout the South Coast region.

Lisa has trained extensively in Ballet, Jazz, Tap, and Dance Education and has participated in numerous professional development programs and teacher training conferences throughout her career. She is committed to helping students build strong technical foundations while encouraging creativity, confidence, and artistic expression.

Throughout the years, Lisa has worked with dancers of all ages and levels, sharing her knowledge, passion, and love of the arts with countless students. Her positive teaching style and dedication to quality arts education continue to inspire young performers both in and out of the classroom.

On Stage Academy of Performing Arts is proud to have Lisa as part of its extended performing arts family, where she continues to support and encourage the next generation of dancers and performers.

Karen White (Outdoor Picture)

Karen White serves as a Theater Instructor at On Stage Academy of Performing Arts, where she works with students in acting, musical theater, and stage performance. She is passionate about helping young performers build confidence, creativity, communication skills, and strong stage presence in a supportive and encouraging environment.

Karen brings a positive and energetic teaching style to the classroom, helping students develop acting techniques, character development, storytelling skills, and ensemble performance experience. She enjoys inspiring children to step outside of their comfort zones while discovering their individual talents and love for the performing arts.

Through her work at On Stage, Karen helps students grow both artistically and personally while encouraging teamwork, discipline, and self-expression through theater education. Her dedication to youth arts programs and performing arts education makes her a valued member of the On Stage instructional team.

